"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,
Send these, the hopeless tempest tossed to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

STATUE of LIBERTY

Designed by Bartholdi, the huge female figure of "Liberty Enlightening the World" was presented to the United States by the freedom loving people of France in 1884. The copper Statue, 151 feet tall has a circular stairway of 168 steps which leads to the interior of the head. There, one may see a never-to-be-forgotten view of New York City—"The Gateway to America."

An unusual view of the New York Skyline showing the Manhattan Bridge in the foreground. The towering Empire State Building is shown in the skyline.

EMPIRE STATE BUILDING

The huge shaft of masonry and steel piercing the sky over New York can be seen fifty miles away on a clear day. In the evening, huge searchlights flash their lights from the towering observation roof of the building. The height of the Empire State Building is breathtaking, measuring 1470 feet to the tip of the TV tower.

This monument to man's lofty ideals was erected in 1931 and is located at 34th Street and Fifth Avenue. The observation towers on the 86th and 102nd floors afford a magnificent view of the entire city.

Open every day from morning to midnight. Reached by all subways transit lines to 34th Street stations.

At night with its thousands of twinkling lights, it is one of Manhattan's interesting sights.

NEW YORK CITY

Welcome to New York, one of the most exciting cities in the world! Its 319.8 square miles include five boroughs — Queens, the largest — Brooklyn, the best known — The Bronx — Richmond and Manhattan.

More than eight million people live here, in this, the world's most popular vacation spot. Small wonder that it has become a year-round recreation center, for no other city anywhere offers so much. Here is headquarters for all the best in Theatre, Music, the Dance, Museums, Fabulous Hotels and Motels, Shopping, Restaurants and practically everything else.

New York is also the financial and business capital of the United States and the nerve center of American Progress. Over three and a half million people are gainfully employed in manufacturing plants, banking and finance.

A bit of New York's early history . . . . Henry Hudson explored the river named in his honor in 1609, but even before that time, in 1524, Giovanni de Verrazano made the first recorded glimpse of Manhattan Island. The Dutch West Indian Company established a trading post here in 1615 and it's said that Peter Minuet purchased the island from the Indians for $24.00 worth of beads and ornaments when New Amsterdam was founded. The British took over from the Dutch in 1664, at which time the island was renamed New York in honor of the Duke of York. George Washington was inaugurated first president of the United States at Federal Hall on Wall Street on April 30, 1789. For several years thereafter Congress met here.

So let's board the magic carpet of color in this pictorial review of the world's most thrilling city. Visit many of its most fascinating spots throughout the following pages.

Greetings from

New York City
